PATS WITH OTHER CANADIANS.

Ottawa, September 20.—It is stated here that there is a probability of the Princess Patricia regiment being united with the other Canadian troops, instead of being brigaded with British regiments as it is now. Many of the Canadians in the regiment are men of the same age, and the feeling seems to be stronger since the McGill company was sent over as reinforcements.

Ottawa, September 20.—The second Canadian division, which has now arrived in France, and which will soon take its full complement of the contingent, the Royal Canadian Dragoons, the Strathcona and the Princess Patricia on the battlefield, is representative in its composition of the whole Dominion of Canada, and according to reports of its work while training it will be the equal of any Canada has sent over and will no doubt live up to the splendid record set up by its predecessor in the field.

The division is under the able command of General Turner, V. C., D. S. O., who did such splendid service in South Africa, and who more recently distinguished himself in command of one of the brigades during the furious fighting of St. Julien, Festubert and Ginchy.

S.O.E. Funeral at Hillsdown

It is with the deepest sympathy for Mr. and Mrs. Piske, of Hillsdown, that we chronicle the death of their son Douglas, who was interred at Hillsdown Church on Saturday, the 18th inst. Several of the members of the S. O. E. Lodge journeyed to Hillsdown for the funeral, when the last sad rites of the S. O. E. Order were performed.

The funeral was largely attended by the deceased's friends, and several funeral tributes were sent, among them one from the S. O. E. Lodge, Red Deer, No. 6. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Currie of Pine Lake.

Deceased was a prominent athlete in his district, and never had a sick day until taken ill shortly before his death, which is supposed to have been caused by getting a cold after getting wet duck hunting. He intended getting up for active service in a short time.

Explorer's Mother Learns Glad News of His Safety

Mrs. Stefansson, Aged 90, is Told That Her Boy is Alive

Grand Forks, N.D., September 16.—Not until late today did the aged mother of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the explorer, learn that her boy is living. In a little claim shack near Wynyard, Sask., eight hundred miles west of Winnipeg, the aged woman, bent under the burden of 90 years, heard the answer to her prayers of many months when she was notified by the Dominion government officials that they had direct advice from her boy.

Clinging to the hope always that her boy was living, Mrs. Stefansson had for several months been convinced that he was dead. She had written only a few days ago to a Grand Forks friend that she feared her boy had been claimed as an Arctic victim.

Wreck on Lacombe Branch

A fatal wreck occurred 100 miles east of Corcoran, on the Lacombe branch of the C.P.R., Monday night, when an engine and five freight cars, some of which contained horses, were derailed and turned over, killing engineer Mickey Gillis outright, and injuring fireman O. Gordon. Gillis came from Corcoran, where he was recently transferred from Calgary, while Gordon, who was severely scalded, has his home in this city.

On the receipt of the news here, wrecking crews were immediately despatched to the scene of the disaster, details of which have not come to hand.

Red Deer's First Wholesale Grocery Firm in Full Blast

MAKES START WITH SIXTY CARLOADS OF GOODS

A little over six weeks ago the hustling firm of Baird & McKenzie started on the building of the first wholesale grocery building. The Red Deer, and last week the Red Deer Grocery Company, Limited, moved forced concrete vault and stationary room. The corresponding space in the front southeast corner is devoted to a packing room, with its equipment of tobacco room, with humid drawer cabinets, candy room, serving shelves, tables and bins. The entrance door, stairs and hall come in between. These are all finished in coast fir.

The warehouse carries three stories of ripening, and cold storage rooms, and for dried fruit. The office occupies the northeast half of the front 25 feet of the Red Deer, and last week the Red Deer Grocery Company, Limited, moved forced concrete vault and stationary room. The corresponding space in the front southeast corner is devoted to a packing room, with its equipment of tobacco room, with humid drawer cabinets, candy room, serving shelves, tables and bins. The entrance door, stairs and hall come in between. These are all finished in coast fir.

S.O.E. Social

The members of the S.O.E., with their lady friends, held a pleasant social evening on Wednesday evening last. Owing to the rain, there were not quite so many present as were expected, but the enthusiasm displayed by the ladies ensures the success of many pleasant socials which are to be arranged for the winter months. A committee of ladies was formed to assist the members in the arrangement of these entertainments, to which the general public will be invited. The first of these will likely be held sometime in October, but particulars will be given later.

Sir Wilfrid Making Steady Progress

Ottawa, September 20.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is making steady progress toward recovery.
Today he was able to deal with a budget of correspondence and dictated a number of letters.
His strength is returning; the wound of the operation is healing, and recovery assured.

Court opened at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The cases of Rex vs. Holmes, perjury, and Rex vs. Tunik and Davidson, subornation of perjury, were adjourned until the next court sittings, the accused being out on bail.

The case against Ernest Young for illicit connection was withdrawn, the accused having been found insane and confined in Ponoka asylum, as was also the John Grant rape case, the parties concerned having been married since.

The only jury case was that of Geo. Sirila, accused of attempted murder at Nordberg, for which the first case was selected and sworn: H. G. Finch, Frederick Watkins, A. Urquhart, C. Germain, A. D. McDonald and A. McIntosh.

The first case taken was that of Rex vs. J. H. Shandy, charged with rape, which is now proceeding behind closed doors as we go to press.

W. E. Payne is acting for the defense.

The session cases, in which much local interest is being displayed, will probably come up Thursday.

HILLSDOWN.

The Harvest Thanksgiving service in St. Paul's church on Sunday, September 20th, at 11.30 a.m.
Contributions of flowers, vegetables, etc., for use in decoration, to be sent to the Red Deer Hospital, will be gratefully accepted.
All are welcome.

MAY BE WON OVER BY THE ALLIES.

Premier Radoslavoff, of Bulgaria, who is said to have stood in the way of an alliance with Britain and her Allies until Serbia would submit to an expansion of Bulgaria's boundaries at the expense of Serbia. He is now said to have been satisfied on this score and to be taking steps to attack Turkey at an opportune moment.

College Notes

The Ladies' College has secured the services of Mr. T. W. Sharpe, lately arrived from England, to take charge of the Commercial Department. Mr. Sharpe is a very expert stenographer, and has his own certificates for 200 words per minute.

President Keith, of the College, is leaving this week for the east in connection with the work of the College.

Rev. Geo. Wood, formerly district organizer for the Alberta League of Temperance and Moral Reform, is this week beginning work in connection with the subscription campaign of the Ladies' College here. He will have the use of Mr. McLaughlin's automobile, kindly donated by the McLaughlin Motor Car Co. of Ottawa, Ont., and will cover the district adjacent to the college.

Mr. Wood comes to his work well qualified by experience and training, and the College is hopeful of the best results, both financially and in the way of securing new students.

Condor Cuttings

I have seen the shamrock growing
In my home so far away.
And I've heard the skylark singing,
From the dawn till close of day.
But of all the scenes that I have scanned,
None can fill my heart with glee,
Like a view from Condor's grand stand.

Where things look good to me,
McLennan he is building.
For he knows it's going to hum,
When we get our brand new store up,
Well, I guess that's going to hum.

Ed. French is mighty joyful,
At the prospect of a town,
For he staked his lots quite proudly,
And he has in mind to put them down.
Oh, they're coming here in carloads,
And it would not be in vain,
To put a nice hotel on.

To keep folks from the rain,
The girls are slightly mournful,
'Cause the boys have gone to the 'tresh,
But they'll soon be coring back again.

And you'll see their money flash,
So we're getting along quite nicely,
And the time will not be long,
'Till old Condor will be thriving,
Like a city. Now so-long.

SHAMROCK.

"ON THE FIELD OF HONOR"

The publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, are making a strong bid for that beautiful picture, full of pathos, entitled "On the Field of Honor." It is assumed the publishers of the Family Herald have in mind to make a presentation plate. If that is so, there is a great treat in store for readers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star this autumn. In past years, The Family Herald of Montreal has been noted not only for the wonderful excellence of that journal but for many beautiful pictures, it has presented to its readers. The Family Herald has a name for succeeding in anything it undertakes, and we feel sure it is humanly possible to secure "On the Field of Honor" that the publishers will succeed in getting it. "On the Field of Honor" is attracting widespread attention in Europe.

Mr. Bowhey, who recently took a position with the National Manufacturing Co., was shocked on learning the day he was leaving for Edmonton that William Delahoy, manager of the company at Edmonton, and a member of the firm, had dropped dead from heart failure. Mr. Bowhey was a friend of deceased, as he had previously worked for the company.

C. P. R. Time Table

Kitchener Believes Germans Have Shot Their Bolt

MAKES GREAT SPEECH ON PRESENT CONDITIONS, WHICH HE THINKS ARE FIRST-CLASS

Turks On Verge of Collapse

London, Sept. 15.—Earl Kitchener, minister of war, in the house of lords read a carefully prepared, optimistic speech on the military operations and needs.

He made the interesting disclosure that the German attacks with gas, liquid fire and asphyxiating shells, lacking, as they do now, the element of surprise, have failed in their object, and have lost much of their offensive value owing to the steps taken to counter-attack them.

Lifting the veil of secrecy, he announced that eleven divisions of the new army had reinforced Field Marshal French's force in France, and others would follow quickly. He too spoke optimistically of the situation on the various fronts, expressing the opinion "that the Germans have shot their bolt" in their offensive against Russia without accomplishing their object of destroying the Russian army.

As far as the Turks were concerned, Earl Kitchener said there was an abundance of evidence of the process of demoralization having set in. In Mesopotamia the resistance of the Turks had terminated.

Without referring directly to conscription, the war minister said provision to keep up the strength of the army in 1916 was causing anxious thought, owing to the falling off recently in the number of recruits offering themselves for service, and he promised an impartial inquiry as to the best means of increasing the armies up to their full strength.

MASTERY MANNER OF THE RUSSIAN FORCES

"In the history of this war few episodes stand out more prominently, more creditably, than the mastery in which the Russian forces, distributed along a line of 750 miles, have been handled while facing violent assaults from an enemy greatly superior in numbers and especially in guns and munitions. The success of this great maneuvered action had been rendered possible by the really splendid fighting qualities of the Russian soldier, who in every case where actual conflict has taken place has shown himself infinitely superior to his adversary. These fighting qualities of the Russian army empowered her able generals and competent staff to carry out the difficult operation of retirement of the whole line over some 100 miles without allowing the enemy to break through at any point, or by surrounding their forces to bring about a tactical position which might have involved surrender of a considerable portion of the Russian army."

"Thus we see the Russian army remaining today intact as a fighting force. It doubtless has suffered from the fighting to which it has been subjected during recent months, but the German forces also had to pay a heavy toll for their advance into Russia, and who will venture to say until the present crisis is reached which armies suffered the most?"

"It must not be forgotten that Russia with her vast territory always has been able ultimately to develop and annihilate large invading armies. In this she certainly is no less capable today than she was twenty years ago. As regards the net result, all that the Germans can place to their credit is that at an enormous sacrifice they have captured fortresses. But our recent experience shows that the best fortifications and practically the only ones that can effectively resist the new machinery of war are those which can be quickly dug deep in the soil. Some trenches today form better defences than the most carefully fortified places, of which the engineers, until lately, were so proud."

"The Germans appear almost to have shot their bolt. Their advance into Russia, which at one time was carried out at an average daily rate of approximately five miles, has now diminished to less than a mile a day, and we see the forces which they boastfully described as broken troops lying before them, still doggedly and pluckily fighting along the whole line, and in some places inflicting heavy losses."

"The Russian army, far from falling out of the fighting lists as German family hopes, is still a powerful and undefeated unit, and the determination and confidence of the rivers. Climatic conditions in this theatre of war have rendered the operations extremely arduous.

BRITISH CAMPAIGN FOR THE FUTURE

"As I have informed your lordships some of the new armies we have prepared and equipped for the war are already in the field, and others will quickly follow them. The response of the country's call for recruits to form these armies has been little short of marvellous, but it must be borne in mind that the provision of men to maintain the forces in the field depends to a great degree on a large supply of recruits."

"The provision to keep up their strength during 1915 has caused us anxious thought, which has been augmented and rendered more pressing by the recent falling off in the numbers coming forward to enlist, although every effort has been made to obtain our requirements under the present system."

"I am sure we all fully realize that the strength of the armies we are sending out must be fully maintained to the very end. To fulfil this purpose we shall require a large addition to the number of recruits joining. The problem of how to supply these men and thus ensure the field force being kept up to its full strength is engaging our close attention, and will, I hope, very soon receive a practical solution."

REMARKABLE ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE ITALIAN ARMS

Dwelling on Italy's part in the war, Earl Kitchener said:

"The achievements of the Italian arms have been truly remarkable, and the manner in which heavy pieces were hauled into almost inaccessible positions on lofty mountain peaks and in spite of great difficulties evoked universal admiration. The Italian army now occupy strategic positions of first rate importance. The gallant conduct of the Bersaglieri men advancing and landing upon their enemies the great military value of the Italian army, all classes have responded to the call of patriotism is marvellous, and I while the bold feats of Alpine troops do not for one instant doubt that whatever sacrifices may prove necessary to bring this gigantic war to a successful conclusion will be cheerfully undertaken by our people."

THE CAMPAIGN IN GALIPLI PENINSULA

"On the Gallipoli peninsula during operations in June several Turkish trenches were captured, and our own positions consolidated."

"Considerable reinforcements having arrived, a surprise landing on a large scale at Suvla Bay was successfully accomplished on August 6th without any serious opposition."

"At the same time an attack was launched by the Australian and New Zealand corps from the Anzac position, and a strong offensive was delivered from Cape Helles in the direction of Krassova, this latter action French troops played a prominent part, and showed to high advantage their usual gallantry and fine fighting qualities."

"The attack from Anzac, after a series of hotly contested actions, was carried to the summit of Sarabak and Chankairi, dominating positions in this area. The arrival of transports and the disembarkation of troops in Suvla Bay was designed to enable troops to support this attack. Unfortunately, however, the advance from Suvla Bay was not developed quickly enough, and the movement forward was brought to a standstill after an advance of about two and one-half miles."

"The result was that the troops from Anzac were unable to retain their position on the crest of the hills, and after being repeatedly counter-attacked they were ordered to withdraw to positions lower down. These positions have been effectively consolidated, and now fighting with the line occupied by the Suvla Bay forces from a connected front of more than 12 miles."

"From the latter position a further attack on the Turkish entrenchments was delivered on the 21st, but after several hours of sharp fighting it was not found possible to gain the summit of the hills occupied by the enemy, and the intervening night being unsuitable for defence, the troops were withdrawn to their original positions."

"Since then, comparative quiet has prevailed, and much rest has been given to our troops."

"In the course of these operations the gallantry and resourcefulness of the Australian and New Zealand troops frequently has formed the subject of praise in General Hamilton's reports."

THE ENORMOUS DIFFICULTIES

"It is not easy to appreciate at their full value the enormous difficulties which have attended the operations in the Dardanelles or the fine temper with which our troops have met them."

"There is now abundant evidence of a process of demoralization having set in among the German-led or rather German-driven Turks, due, no doubt, to their extreme heavy losses and to the progressive failure of their resources. It is only fair to acknowledge that, judged from a humane point of view, the methods of warfare pursued by the Turks are vastly superior to those which have disgraced their German masters."

"Throughout the cooperation of the fleet has been intensely valuable, and the concerted action between the sister service has been in every way in the highest degree satisfactory."

"Of the fighting in Mesopotamia, Earl Kitchener said reconnaissance had shown that the Euphrates was clear of Turks for a distance of sixty miles."

"Since this victory," he added, "there has been no further fighting on the Euphrates, Tigris or Karun."

TWO GERMAN TAUBES ARE BROUGHT DOWN IN BRITISH LINES

Thrilling Air Duel Results in Death of Aviator and Capture of Machines.

London, September 15.—Writing from British general headquarters under date of September 13, a correspondent of the Chronicle says: "Two German aeroplanes were brought down in our lines today. The fate of one was preceded by an act of desperate bravery which won the admiration of our men, in spite of their own peril. This Taube was sighted over our lines early this morning. It was one of the latest types armed with two machine guns, and flew at great speed. One of our own aeroplanes with smaller wing spread and of lighter make immediately mounted and gave chase. The enemy accepted the challenge and a thrilling duel took place.

The pilot of our aeroplane showed the finest skill in banking his adversary and a remarkable shot hit the German machine and the petrol tank. It began to fall, and it was then clear to the unhappy men in the machine that they were dashing to death. Yet, without losing their nerve, they maintained their rapid fire. The men crashed to earth and both were killed, but the machine was not much damaged and may be used by our aviators.

"The second taube, appearing later in the day, was hit in a vital part and burst into flames."

GERMAN AIRSHIP DAMAGED.
London, September 15.—A German airship badly damaged by Russian gunfire has descended at Königsberg, east Prussia, according to an American dispatch.

The airship, it is believed to have been one of those which participated in the raid on the Gulf of Riga.

A German official, writing September 10 stated that a naval airship dropped several bombs on a Russian naval base at a Baltic port and returned undamaged, although it was fired upon.

REMOVED BULLET FROM MAN'S HEART.

Paris, September 15.—Means by which a bullet was removed from the right auricle of a French soldier's heart was described to the Academy of Medicine, last night, by Dr. Charles Iffland.

This feat was accomplished by the use of a vent, the instrument enables Dr. Iffland to locate foreign bodies in the tissue with mathematical precision and permits their extraction without injury.

Believe Austria Plans Offensive Against Italy

Removing Troops From All Over the Empire to Southern Front.

Rome, September 15.—A dispatch to the Corriere d'Italia stated that the Austrians have transferred their troops from the Montenegrin frontier to the Italian front. They have an especially large garrison at Monte Lawchen, which dominates Cetina. The Corriere d'Italia's Cetina correspondent writes that, to send reinforcements to Carnio and Isosno, Austria has completely demoralized the troops. In fact, Austria is withdrawing troops from all parts of the empire to send them on the fighting fronts. The transfer of these troops is taken to show that a new and violent offensive against Italy is being planned. Italian soldiers fighting against Alpine snows are to be clad in white. In all Italian cities committees have been formed to provide soldiers with white overcoats.

Crown Prince Breaking Down, Report Shows

London, September 16.—A dispatch from Northern France to the Central News gives a sensational report from German sources that the German crown prince is suffering mental aberration as the result of worries of the campaign. ## SOME QUESTIONS AND THEIR ANSWERS

W. H. Sharpe, M.P. Clears up the Price of Binders—Official Import-Figures

Last March Mr. W. H. Sharpe, M.P. for North Ligar, asked the following questions in the House of Commons with reference to the import of binders from the United States into Western Canada, and received the answers given below from the Minister of Customs.

The figures which are authentic and compiled from Government records, completely disprove the story that a well known United States implement concern circulated widely through Western Canada earlier in the year.

What was the total importation of 7 and 8-foot binders from the United States in the year 1914, at the port of Winnipeg, and the average value on which duty was collected?

Number of harvesters, self-binding, all sizes, entered through port of Winnipeg, year 1911-1914. Total value, $22,568. Average value, $108.40 each. In the total number above stated are probably included harvesters smaller than 7 and 8-foot, but the number of each cannot be given from the records in the Customs Department, as invoices are retained in the department for only three years.

What was the total amount of duty collected on same, and the average amount per binder?

Total amount of duty collected on said binders, $2,947.65; average, $18.98 each.

What was the price of the International Harvester Company's 7 and 8-foot binders in the United States, as sold to dealers only, according to prices lists in 1911 and 1914?

Selling prices of International Harvester Company's binders to dealers in the United States: 7-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, 1911, $105; 1914, $100.50. 8-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, 1911, $107.50; 1914, $103.

What was the total importation of 7 and 8-foot binders from the United States in the year 1914, at the port of Winnipeg, and the average value on which duty was collected?

Seven and eight-foot harvesters entered for consumption through the port of Winnipeg in the year 1914: total number 193; value, $19,462 (including the value of the bundle carrier); average value as entered, $100.84 each. Total duty collected thereon, $2,516.97; average, $13.04 each.

On what prices did the John Deere Plough Company pay duty on 7 and 8-foot binders at the port of Winnipeg?

Duty was paid by John Deere Plough Company, Winnipeg, on following values during 1913: 7-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $78.22; 8-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $80.65.

Were these entries at customs made at prices below the fair market value of the binders, and in violation of the customs laws?

These entries by John Deere Plough Company, Winnipeg, were made at prices much below the fair market value for home consumption and were therefore in violation of the customs laws.

What was the selling price of these binders as sold to dealers only in the United States in 1913?

Selling prices to dealers of John Deere binders in the United States during 1913: 7-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $103; 8-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $105.50.

Soaps of Quality

Many makers of Toilet Soaps cater to dealers who regard their customers from the standpoint of profit only—cut quality when it stands in the way of profit.

These soap manufacturers seek to hide the presence of impure materials by the use of pungent perfumes, some using coloring matter if necessary. We trust we have none such.

Every soap maker represented in our stock of toilet, bath or medicinal soaps has earned a reputation for producing high grade goods, such as

Harmony Rose or Violet Glycerine Soap, 2 for .25

Rexall Toilet Soap, box of 3 cakes .35
